

To Feel Alive for 1 Single Moment is Something Worth Dying For

So Imagine what's Worth Living For

Let us Row with the Arms of Humanity

Without a Sense of Time or Space

JUST BE YOURSELF

Roses will Love you whether you are a Butterfly or a Garden

Be Fascinated with your Curiosity to Renew Your-Self

You may never guess what might Come your Way
To awaken the Innocent Child with-in you

A beautiful mind is free from external influences

Because such a mind is only seeking Truth

Learning how to be Grateful is very Complicated

But just being Grateful is very Simple

Life is given because it is a gift

Heaven is not given because it is earned

I am never Lonely in my Aloneness

Because I Love My-Self & I Cherish my True Colors

To Quit Making a Living & Start Making a Life

Just Stir Up Everything around You

The Mightiest Sword is in the Tenderness of Innocence

And the Deepest Wound is in its Fragility

You can Only See Your True Color

When It Begins to Shine Upon Another

True Love is not knowing you are falling in Love

While everything around you is falling in Love with you

He Trusts His Hand to your Tender Wings

Trust your Wings to His Tender Hands

What seems to be the most painful experience

Will always reveal itself as the most rewarding event

When I was Young & Beautiful Nobody Could See Me

I Traded my Youth & Beauty for Love & Affection

Now Every Body Wants to See Me
